Spencer Stuart Perspective for 2021

U.S. corporate boards have been reshaping their composition in recent years, adding new skills and perspectives. In the past several years, increasing gender diversity was a top priority, but more recently, we have seen a growing focus on enhancing the racial/ethnic diversity of the boardroom.

One tactic boards have used to accelerate change in the boardroom is to increase their size. In the 2021 proxy year, for example, 78 boards expanded to add one or more women directors, on top of the 76 boards that expanded to increase gender diversity in 2020. Eighty-eight boards increased their size to add racial/ethnic diversity. These boards added a total of 114 directors who are Black/African American, Asian, Hispanic/Latino/a, American Indian/Alaska native or multiracial - 37 of whom are women.

The focus on diversity is likely to continue. Our survey of nominating/governance committee chairs found that adding racial/ethnic diversity will be a recruiting priority for the next several years, as will bringing on directors with global perspective and corporate experience, including in technology and finance. But boards cannot always increase in size to bring on needed skills or backgrounds.

Making meaningful progress on recruiting priorities - and ensuring they continually have the right perspectives around the board table in a dynamic business environment - will require many boards to embrace a new mindset. Rather than thinking in terms of mechanisms to encourage turnover, such as mandatory retirement or term limits, forward-looking boards will adopt a refreshment mindset and an intentional and ongoing process for evaluating whether they have the right expertise in the boardroom.

These boards will compare the skills and attributes of current directors with those that are critical to the company's long-term strategy to identify and address any gaps or overcapacity. Tools such as board and director assessments and director skill matrices can be useful for evaluating whether the current board members are still the right ones to address the organization's strategy. When they are not, or director performance is lacking, these boards will have the courage and culture to make a change. They will create the expectation that directors' continued service depends on their performance and the value and relevance of their skills on a forward-looking basis.

Boards that take this approach will be well-positioned to regularly inject new and needed perspectives into their deliberations. They also will reduce reliance on the retirement-based refreshment approach many boards take today, in which the oldest person on the board rolls off, regardless of his or her contribution. And when boards adopt a refreshment mindset and more frequent turnover, directors are less likely to feel the perceived stigma of leaving a board before retirement age.

Establishing a refreshment mindset also aligns boards with investors, who expect boards to regularly refresh their skill sets based on the for-ward-looking strategy. Many investors have expressed a preference for a mix of tenures in the boardroom: roughly a third each of short-, mediumand long-tenured directors.

As boards increase their refreshment, they also should ensure that they are preparing a diverse pipeline of directors for board leadership roles. Diversity in leadership can elevate important perspectives and increase the sense of belonging in the boardroom for all directors. Boards typically tap experienced directors for key leadership roles because they already have institutional knowledge of the company, familiarity with the key issues, and relationships with other board members and management. Forward-looking board succession planning anticipates the departure of board and committee leaders and ensures that the board has someone with the right skills, time and commitment to serve.

To help develop directors for board leadership, committee chairs will ensure that newer members gain deeper exposure to committee responsibilities and develop a perspective on which committee members could be strong committee chairs. The use of "board buddies" - pairing longer-tenured directors with new directors - can help new directors more quickly get up to speed on board culture, issues and responsibilities, while enabling established directors to see where they might best serve in future leadership roles.

U.S. Spencer Stuart Board Index 2021 Highlights

Now in its 36th year, the U.S. Spencer Stuart Board Index analyzes the board governance practices of the S&P 500. Here, some of the most notable findings are highlighted.

New class of S&P 500 directors is the most diverse ever

» Directors from historically underrepresented groups - including women and Black/African American, Asian, Hispanic/Latino/a, American Indian/Alaska native or multiracial men account for $72 \%$ of all new directors, compared with $59 \%$ last year. Nearly half - $47 \%$ - of the 456 new independent director class are from historically underrepresented racial and ethnic groups, and $43 \%$ are women, including $18 \%$ female Black/African American, Asian, Hispanic/ Latina, American Indian/Alaska native or multiracial directors.

- One-third (33\%) of all new independent directors are Black/African American, three times as much as than last year (11\%) and the most since we began tracking this data in 2008.
- The representation of Asian directors among new directors fell slightly to $7 \%$ from $8 \%$ last year.
- Hispanic/Latino/a directors make up 7\% of new directors, an increase from $3 \%$ last year and the most since we began collecting this data in 2008.
- The representation of women among new independent directors fell to $43 \%$ from $47 \%$ last year.

$30 \%$ of all S&P 500 directors are women, a new milestone

" Female representation increased to $30 \%$ this year from $28 \%$ last year and $16 \%$ a decade ago.
» $96 \%$ of boards have two or more women directors, compared with $58 \%$ of boards in $2011.72 \%$ have three or more women.
» Only 8\% of independent board chairs and $13 \%$ of lead/presiding directors are women.

69\%

of next-gen directors are from historically underrepresented racial or ethnic groups

More than one-third (35\%) of the directors appointed in the 2020 proxy year are serving on their first outside public company board, up from $28 \%$ in 2020

> Nearly three-quarters of first-time directors - $74 \%$ - are actively employed, compared with $44 \%$ of non-first-time directors. $4 \%$ are actively employed private company CEOs who are serving on their first public company board.

Directors 50 and younger make up $16 \%$ of new directors and 6\% of all directors

» $69 \%$ of these next-gen directors are from historically underrepresented racial or ethnic groups.
» $47 \%$ of new next-gen directors are women.

33\%

of new S&P 500 directors are active and retired corporate executives

Functional, line leaders and other corporate executives are the most common new director backgrounds

" One-third ( $33 \%$ ) of new S&P 500 directors are active and retired corporate executives, including functional and other line leaders and division/ subsidiary presidents.

》 $22 \%$ are active and retired CEOs.
" $56 \%$ of new directors today are actively employed.
" New independent directors from historically underrepresented groups are more likely to be functional/other line leaders and division/subsidiary presidents than those who are not and much less likely to be CEOs.

Boards continue to be more likely to use mandatory retirement than term limits to trigger refreshment

» $6 \%$ of boards report having explicit term limits for non-executive directors. Term limits range from 10 to 20 years, with $73 \%$ of those that have them setting limits at 15 years or more.
» $70 \%$ report having a mandatory retirement age, the same as last year, but retirement ages continue to climb. Half ( $51 \%$ ) of boards with age limits have a mandatory retirement age of 75 or older, compared with $48 \%$ last year and $20 \%$ a decade ago.
» The average tenure of independent directors on S&P 500 boards is 7.7 years, a year less on average than in 2011 ( 8.7 years).
" The average age of independent directors is 63.1 , compared with 62.4 in 2011.

60\% of boards disclosed their ethnic/racial composition, with $28 \%$ of those boards identifying directors from historically underrepresented groups by name

» $39 \%$ of boards reported having a policy to include individuals from historically underrepresented groups in the candidate pool when recruiting new directors, up from $24 \%$ last year.
" Despite the record number of new directors from historically underrepresented groups during the 2021 proxy year, the overall representation of some demographic groups on S&P 500 boards trails their representation in the U.S. population.

- $21 \%$ of all S&P 500 directors are Black/African American, Hispanic/Latino/a, Asian, American Indian/Native Alaskan or multiracial, versus $42 \%$ of the U.S. population.
- 49 S&P 500 companies ( $10 \%$ ) are led by Black/African American, Hispanic/Latino/a, Asian, American Indian/Native Alaskan or multiracial CEOs.
- $8 \%$ of independent board chairs and $10 \%$ of lead independent board directors are from historically underrepresented ethnic or racial groups.

S&P 500 BOARD REPRESENTATION VERSUS U.S. POPULATION

|  | New S&P 500 directors | All S&P 500 directors | U.S. Census Bureau |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| \% Women | $43 \%$ | $30 \%$ | $50.8 \%$ |
| \% From historically underrepresented  ethnic/racial groups | $47 \%$ | $21 \%$ | $42 \%$ |
| \% Black/African American | $33 \%$ | $11 \%$ | $13.4 \%$ |
| \% Hispanic/Latino/a | $7 \%$ | $5 \%$ | $18.5 \%$ |

| \% American Indian or Alaska Native | $<1 \%$ | $<1 \%$ | $1.3 \%$ |
| \% Two or more races (multiracial) | $<1 \%$ | $<1 \%$ | $2.8 \%$ |

Additional proxy disclosures focused on diversity are emerging

» 32 boards (6\%) included LGBTQ+ disclosure in their proxy statement, although most did not identify the LGBTQ+ status of individual directors. Just five LGBTQ+ directors were identified by name.

$37 \%$ of boards have an independent

board chair

» Today, $59 \%$ of S&P 500 boards split the chair and CEO roles, compared with $55 \%$ last year and $41 \%$ in 2011.
» Boards also are more likely to name an independent chair - a director who meets applicable NYSE or NASDAQ rules for independence. $37 \%$ of boards have a truly independent chair today, compared with $34 \%$ last year. A decade ago, only $21 \%$ of boards had an independent chair.

In a year of unprecedented challenges, boards met more often

» Boards met 9.4 times on average, exceeding the 7.9 meeting average last year. Because of travel restrictions and the convenience of virtual meetings, most boards did not meet in person.

More board performance evaluations consider individual director contributions

» $98 \%$ of S&P 500 boards - all but 10 - report conducting some sort of annual performance evaluation.
" $47 \%$ of boards disclose that they have some form of individual director evaluations, an increase from 44\% last year and 34\% a decade ago.

Director compensation rises modestly

» The average total director compensation rose $1 \%$ to $$ 312,279$. This average reflects actual director compensation, including the voluntary, and usually temporary, pay cuts some boards took during the height of the pandemic crisis.
» Stock grants and cash represent the largest share of director compensation, $56 \%$ and $37 \%$, respectively. Option grants ( $5 \%$ ) and miscellaneous fees ( $2 \%$ ) constitute the rest.
" The average annual retainer increased by $2 \%$ to $$ 131,664$.
» $76 \%$ of boards provide stock grants to directors in addition to a cash retainer.
" $93 \%$ of the 180 boards with independent board chairs provide additional compensation to the board chair, averaging $$ 164,276$. $79 \%$ of boards with a lead or presiding director provide additional compensation to directors serving in those roles, averaging $$ 41,595$.
of S&P 500 boards disclose some form of individual director evaluations

Average total director compensation - an increase of $1 \%$ versus 2020

Boards have 10.8 directors on average

» S&P 500 boards range in size from five to 22 members, and average 10.8 directors. $71 \%$ of boards fall into in the 9-to-12-member range.

BOARD SIZE

» $86 \%$ of all S&P 500 board directors are independent, largely consistent with the past several years. Boards average 9.3 independent directors and 1.5 non-independent directors.
» The CEO is the only non-independent director on $64 \%$ of S&P 500 boards, compared with $57 \%$ a decade ago.

$90 \%$ of boards have annual director elections

» Over the past decade, most S&P 500 boards have moved to a declassified board structure, where directors stand for election by shareholders annually. Today, $90 \%$ of boards have one-year terms, compared with $76 \%$ in 2011. The remaining boards have three-year terms.

DIRECTOR TERM LENGTHS

》) Most boards also have policies requiring directors to offer their resignation if they fail to receive a majority vote from shareholders; $89 \%$ of boards have such policies today, up from $79 \%$ in 2011 . Boards retain the discretion to accept or decline a director's resignation.

Average board tenure has declined by a year over the past decade

» The average tenure of independent directors on S&P 500 boards is 7.7 years, a year less on average than in 2011 $(8.7$ years). Median tenure fell during that period to 6.0 years from 8.4 years.
" Just under half of independent directors ( $46 \%$ ) have served for five or fewer years. $27 \%$ have served for 6-10 years, $14 \%$ for $11-15$ years and $13 \%$ for 16 years or more. The longest-serving director has been on his board for 60 years.
" Most S&P 500 boards, $63 \%$, have an average tenure of between six and 10 years. The longest average board tenure is 20 years.

BOARD AVERAGE TENURE FOR INDEPENDENT DIRECTORS

Most boards require director resignations when employment situation changes

» $85 \%$ of S&P 500 boards require directors who experience a change in employment status or job responsibilities to offer their resignation. The board chair and/or the nominating committee chair typically have the discretion to accept or decline the resignation.
» Specific policies for company CEOs are less common. Only $34 \%$ of S&P 500 boards require the CEO to submit his or her resignation from the board when the CEO's employment with the company ends. In all cases, however, boards retain the discretion to accept or decline the resignation.

Many boards limit additional board activity by directors and the CEO

» $77 \%$ of S&P 500 boards report having some limit on directors accepting other corporate directorships, a modest increase from $74 \%$ a decade ago. Limits take different forms; some apply to all directors, while others apply only to audit committee members or directors who are public company CEOs.

- $67 \%$ of boards report having a numerical limit for other corporate board service that applies to all directors, compared with $57 \%$ in 2011. Most of these boards limit members to three or four additional directorships.
- $42 \%$ restrict the number of other audit committees on which their audit committee members may serve (nearly all limiting to no more than two other audit committees), up modestly from $40 \%$ a decade ago.
- $35 \%$ restrict the additional board activity of directors who are public company CEOs, compared with just $14 \%$ a decade ago.
» 112 boards do not report specific limits on additional board service; $98 \%$ of these boards require directors to notify the board chair prior to accepting an invitation to join another company board and/or encourage directors to "reasonably limit" their other board service.
» One-quarter of S&P 500 boards report a specific limit on the number of outside boards on which the CEO may serve. Among those that do, nearly all limit CEOs to one or two outside boards. Two boards allow their CEOs to serve on three outside corporate boards.
» $60 \%$ of S&P 500 CEOs do not serve on a public corporate board in addition to their own board, compared with $58 \%$ last year and $54 \% 10$ years ago. Of the 195 CEOs with an outside board commitment, only seven CEOs serve on more than one outside corporate board.

Director Compensation

2021 Snapshot

Stock grants and cash represent the largest share of director compension $56 \%$ and $3 \%$ respectively
$76 \%$ boards provide stock grants to directors in addition to a cash retainer

The average total compensation for S&P 500 directors increased 1 \% to

The average annual retainer for
S&P 500 directors increased by about $2 \%$ to $131,664

Average total director compensation increases by $1 \%$ to $$ 312,279$

" The average total compensation for directors rose $1 \%$ to $$ 312,279$ from $308,462 last year. The average compensation rose even though some boards took voluntary pay reductions during the height of the pandemic crisis. Pay cuts were usually temporary, typically three to six months, and included reductions in the either cash components, equity awards or some combination of the two.
» Excluding premium compensation for the independent board chair, the average total compensation per director is $$ 305,808$.
" Stock grants represent the largest share of director compensation, $56 \%$, followed by cash compensation, $37 \%$. The composition of equity awards has shifted over time, with fewer companies granting options and more providing stock awards.
» $70 \%$ of boards have deferred compensation plans, the same as last year.

BREAKDOWN OF DIRECTOR COMPENSATION*

* Total average compensation per non-employee director is based on non-employee director compensation tables included in 493 proxies. The number includes all board and committee retainers and meeting fees, supplemental non-executive chairman and lead/presiding director fees, the value of equity compensation, and all other compensation paid in fiscal year 2020. Retiring and new directors are included when paid compensation for at least three quarters of the year.
 Includes deferred compensation amounts.
 Includes, for example, insurance premiums, charitable award programs and incremental cost to company of products provided.

Average retainer rises 2\% to $131,664

» The average annual director retainer is $$ 131,664,2 \%$ higher than last year's $$ 129,428$ average. During the past five years, the average retainer has increased $2 \%$ to $3 \%$ each year and by $11 \%$ overall since 2016 .
" Retainers vary widely by company. The lowest board retainer is $$ 20,000$ and the highest is $$ 375,000$, which is paid partially in equity.
" $38 \%$ of boards pay retainers of less than $$ 100,000$ - including 12 companies with retainers under $$ 50,000$ while 29 companies (6\%) pay retainers of $300,000 or more.

ANNUAL RETAINERS

》 Only 6\% of boards provide meeting attendance fees today. A decade ago, $37 \%$ of boards provided meeting attendance fees, but the prevalence of attendance fees has fallen as boards shifted the compensation mix toward retainers and stock awards.

》 Meeting attendance fees range from $$ 900$ to $$ 15,000$ (at a company where meeting fees were paid in lieu of a retainer and capped at $$ 60,000$ per year) and average $$ 2,663$.

Nominating/Governance Chair Survey 2021

ESG efforts rise to the top of board priorities, with a strong orientation toward increasing diversity.

Our annual survey of S&P 500 nominating/governance committee chairs casts a light on current board trends and priorities. How have things changed - and how have they remained consistent - after a pandemic year? In early 2021, we surveyed 77 committee chairs to find out what is top of mind in the wake of the pandemic and racial justice reckoning, how their recruitment efforts have shifted, and where their board makeup is headed. Here are the highlights.

Nominating/governance committee priorities

Enhancing board diversity remains a high priority, but three new priorities joined the top five list, including today's top priority for nom/gov committees: overseeing environmental, social and governance (ESG) initiatives. Developing a board succession strategy, enhancing board effectiveness and overseeing diversity, equity and inclusion (DE&I) efforts round out the list.

TOP FIVE NOM/GOV COMMITTEE PRIORITIES OVER THE NEXT THREE YEARS

Gender diversity as a recruiting profile fell from 3rd place in 2020
to 10th in 2021

Recruitment of women slowed from $47 \%$ in 2020

What is missing?

Gender diversity, the fourth priority for nom/gov committees last year, did not rank in the top five this year. In terms of recruiting profiles, it fell far - from 3rd place to 1oth.

The change in board priorities is also reflected in 2021 proxy composition trends. The recruitment of women slowed: $43 \%$ of the new class of S&P 500 directors are women, compared with $47 \%$ last year.

Has this movement had its moment?

Or is recruitment of women simply a given priority at this point?

Board performance

The number of nom/gov chairs who reported that their board had one or more underperforming directors fell from $35 \%$ last year, suggesting that directors stepped up their contributions in response to the challenges of the pandemic or underperformers left these boards.

Recruiting and refreshment

Board refreshment is always top of mind for nom/gov committees, but boards turn over slowly. On average, nom/ gov chairs expect one director role to turn over in each of the next three years.

of nom/gov chairs say they start looking for a new director 12+ months before retirement of the current director.

TOP FIVE RECRUITING PRIORITIES OVER THE NEXT THREE YEARS

WHAT THE PROXIES SHOW: THE NEW CLASS OF S&P 500 DIRECTORS IS THE MOST RACIALLY AND ETHNICALLY DIVERSE EVER

Of new independent directors are Black/African American, Asian, Hispanic/Latino/a, American Indian/Native Alaskan or multiracial, up from 22\% in 2020

Of new independent directors are from underrepresented groups (women and Black/African American, Asian, Hispanic/Latino/a, American Indian/ Native Alaskan or multiracial male directors), up from 59\% in 2020 of nom/gov committee chairs report no issues with recruiting directors with diverse backgrounds - either they already feel they have a diverse board or they have not faced any obstacles in recruitment.

HOW BOARDS ARE INCREASING THEIR RACIAL AND ETHNIC REPRESENTATION

Have used a global search firm to identify director candidates with diverse ethnic/racial backgrounds

Have leveraged the personal networks of current board directors and management

WHAT'S SHIFTING AND WHAT'S REMAINED CONSTANT IN RECRUITING PROFILES

Global perspective 10th on the list just two years ago, now it's #2

Operational experience Jumped from the #8 spot into the top 5

Financial & Tech experience Have always been top 5 priorities for nom/gov committee recruitment

Comparative Board Data

Methodology

Based on the S&P 500 as of May 28, 2020. Fiscal year 2020 company sales data obtained from CapitallQ; industry/sector categories from Capital IQ. All remaining data were pulled from the most recent DEF14A proxy statements released between May 28, 2020, and May 13, 2021. Tenure includes time at company and the company's predecessors. Corporate boards classified as public company boards and all data on the number of corporate boards obtained from BoardEx as of May 28, 2021. Total average compensation per non-employee director is based on non-employee director compensation tables included in 493 proxies. The number includes all board and committee retainers and meeting fees, supplemental non-executive chair and lead/presiding director fees, the value of equity compensation, and all other compensation paid in fiscal year 2020. Total current other corporate board affiliations for new directors were found by counting any public boards a director was on upon appointment to the new S&P 500 board, including executive directorships. This information was found through proxy data and BoardEx data as of company's most recent proxy. First-time directors have not previously served on any public company board, whether their own board or an outside board.
